

Outillage Industriel de l'Est (1987) Inc. serving industries for more than 20 years.

In July 1987, 3 former employees of TRW Inc grouped their efforts together and purchased Outillage Industriel de l'Est.

The original team was then made up of Gilles Létourneau, director TRW industrial Div. (MRC bearings, J.H. Williams hand tools) Kirk Weinmaster assistant director and Yvan Lebuis regional manager.

The new administration decided to keep the same direction as its predecessors, concentrating their efforts on metal working industries and keeping the refineries located nearby as their target customers.

Since 1989 Outillage Industriel de l'Est (1987) Inc. is a member of Independent Distributors Inc. (IDI) an industrial buying group made up of more than 100 similar types of companies located from coast to coast across Canada.

Today Outillage Industriel de l'Est has evolved immensely. Now with 16 employees, it has become one of the most complete industrial distribution companies in Greater Montreal. Outillage Industriel de l'Est now distributes precision tools, cutting tools, hand tools, air and electric tools as well as general maintenance equipment and safety supplies.